Our Mining Prospects.

It is gratifying to turn from the uninviting subject of the country's wrongs and grievances to take a passing glance at the improving condition of our mines; every week, for sometime past, has shown a slight improvement in the report of mining operations; and this coming, as it does, from the upper country in the very height of the mining season, shows an activity and life amongst the mining claims that is a decided improvement upon the last few years. True it is that there is not constant employment for hired labor to an unlimited extent, nor are the wages what they were five and six years ago; but during the whole of this summer, there has been no lack of employment for those who would work well and steadily. It is a notable fact that old ground, and abandoned creeks are now being worked and prospected with success. We quite agree with our Cariboo contemporaries in attributing much of the evil that has of late years overshadowed our mining camps, to the "very temporary and superficial manner in which prospecting has been done." Want of capital may be fairly added to the want of preparing knowledge and skill, as one of the drawbacks tending very much to increase the cost and prolong the time in gaining that experience of which the persevering and successful miners will ultimately reap the profit. Great have been the disappointments which have befallen those who time after time have adventured in joint-stock companies, whose prospects at the outset seem, even to bystanders, fair and promising; nay more, whose want of success, now that we calmly look back upon the brilliant prospects that seemed almost within reach at the outset, the brief struggle to "catch the lead," and the heavy outlay, which, in dozens of cases, results in loss to all concerned, is a marvel, such as is only heard of in the mining camp. Such disappointments, however, are but a part of the miner's existence. The actual miner, he who prospects for gold in person, rarely becomes a rich man. The speculator, he who at a distance watches his chance, and invests his capital upon the report of a third party, who is interested always in making the best of that which he desires to see taken up, becomes rich or fails; according to chance, after a similar manner as he who seeks his living upon the stock exchange, or in any other speculative mode of existence. Experience has taught us in this Colony, not to trust to the fairest prospects. So much of the actual mining has to be left to agents that it becomes impossible to trust to promises. Repeated failures are of course most discouraging, and it is always a satisfaction to watch the first glimmer of returning confidence after a season of mishaps. The latest reports from Cariboo do show signs of improvement; claims which have been worked for six years, on Conklin Gulch, without success, are now, we are told, beginning to pay, and there are similar cases on Keithley and Grouse Creeks, of claims, which, after being worked for some time, were abandoned, and are now paying. The Grouse Creek Bed-rock Flume Company is, we are glad to observe, paying a dividend which although not large, may be taken we hope as an earnest of better things to come. If the more healthy tone that seems to be spread over mining matters just now, leads only to a more thorough system of prospecting the numerous creeks of Cariboo, practical good must result to the whole Colony. That there is abundance of gold in British Columbia, is beyond doubt, and everything that will tend to decrease the difficulties of getting it out will add to our prosperity, through good seasons and bad, through times of activity and depression, it has never been doubted that the gold is there, although the difficulties of getting it out have at times appeared almost insurmountable. Perhaps it is fortunate that mining excitements are never of a long duration, or their effect upon the prosperity of a Colony would be more deleterious than they generally are. It cannot be denied that the reaction consequent upon the excitement of 1862 has kept this Colony back more than any inherent weakness, or want of the element of prosperity in the country itself. In 1862, too much could hardly be given for town lots; what a change was brought about in four years; but who amongst those who have watched the progress of events since 1858, can deny that every element of prosperity that could be fairly reckoned as existing in 1862 is to the full as apparent, and as much within our grasp now as then; nay more, with the prospect of a form of government that will be acceptable to the people, almost within our reach, are we not in reality better off than in our whole previous existence as a Colony we ever have been?

Editorial Correspondence--No. 6.

NEW YORK, July 6, 1868.

The heat of the last three days has been perfectly unbearable. The sufferings of persons exposed to the rays of the sun have in many cases proved fatal; but the torture, trials and temptations of the sweltering democracy, crowded, packed and struggling in the Convention at Tammany Hall, have been dreadful. To-day it was touch of Tophet in the Hall, and I fear the worst is yet to come. The mercury in this variable climate passed over wide thermometrical ranges in brief space of time. Rapid changes occur in both the rise and the fall of the sensitive indicator. In four days of last week there was a difference of 33½ degrees, the minimum being 61 degrees at 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning, and the maximum 95½ degrees at half-past 2 on Saturday afternoon. This heated term has disturbed the Gulf Stream theory, the protracted cold weather of last spring was accounted for by the movement of the Gulf Stream some two or three hundred miles to the eastward. New York was doomed to perpetual chills and dampness. Like all previous weather prophecies the Gulf Stream theory has been dissipated, and the climate has retrieved its reputation for variability, and after an Arctic winter, and an Alaskan Spring is serving up a tropical summer.

The celebration of the Fourth of July, on Saturday, was accompanied by the usual waste of gunpowder and consumption of grog. But the number of casualties and outrages were less than common, although several murders occurred in this city and environs. One of the most remarkable occurrences of the day was the accidental shooting of a young German by a fellow countryman in Brooklyn and the suicide by drowning, of the involuntary homicide immediately after the death of his victim. Another shocking occurrence in the same city is recorded. An old man invited two young male friends to spend the evening with him. The guests came late and under the influence of wine. A heated altercation soon arose with their host, and presently one of the guests seized a pair of scissors and stabbed the old man in the side, killing him instantly. The murdered man was 65 years of age. The display of fireworks at night was very fine, but at one point the effect was spoiled by the introduction of a piece, which in letters of blue and green fire, advised the people to "buy none but S' tobacco." The public are naturally enraged at this unwarrantable liberty, and charge the Committee and the pyrotechnist with having been bribed to permit the impudence. There was a fine display of military during the day, prominent among which was a regiment of Fenians. These fine fellows, however, appear to have arrived at the end of their tether. They attract no attention now, except from the quarrelling and bickering among themselves, and as an order they are moribund. The other day Colonel O'Neill, the new President of the Irish Republic, made complaint before a Justice that the Editor of an Irish American paper was inciting him to create a breach of the peace. The editor was arrested, when it appearing that he had merely criticised the President's official acts, they were discharged.

The New York Democratic Convention is still in session. Nothing can be gleaned from their action thus far, to indicate with any degree of certainty who will be the nominee. Pendleton, a peace Democrat and repudiator of the national debt, is ahead in the balloting, but the Convention having adopted a platform with a non-repudiation plank in it, it is improbable that he will succeed. Great interest is manifested in the doing of this Convention, the impression being general, that should the Democrats nominate a good man he will be elected. Grant is unpopular because the people fear that he and his party aim to change the system of Government into a military despotism, and because the expense of the Government is still largely in excess of its income.

The New York Herald is responsible for the following election skit:—There was a meeting of the Pendletonians the other evening. One of the unwashed cried out as the distinguished advocates of the popular Ohio advanced on the stage—"Wash me clean! wash me clean!" "Shut up," cried a suppressor of turbulence, "you appear to be very dirty. Don't disturb the meeting." "Wash me clean, wash me clean!" vehemently and persistently exclaimed the ardent Pendletonian. "Put him out! Put him out!" A disturbance was brewing. At this juncture, mild and benevolent looking gentleman, with a high forehead, normal moustache and auburn locks, came forward and appealed for a moment's silence, which was acceded. He said—"No doubt the audience labors under a mistake. My jubilant friend has recognized in me an old friend. His ories mean no derision to the assemblage nor insult to those grave old codgers on the platform. I am familiarly known at home in Cincinnati as Wash McLean and I flatter myself I am something of a clean lipped champion of the illustrious son of Ohio." Then there were three rousing cheers for Wash McLean and three more with a tiger for the man he celebrated.

The Schutzenfest having swallowed its last bottle of Rhine wine and glass of lager, eaten its final pretzel, hit its ultimate bull's eye, distributed its prizes and danced out its concluding ball, the daily journals are counting its cost and profit, and summing up its successes and failures. They do not fail to recognise its excellent features of order, good humor, and hearty enjoyment, sought by substantial means, rather than the methods of sham and costly show. But they do not overlook the serious drawbacks in bad management, which resulted in the killing of several people. Had these casualties been unavoidable accidents, they would have been permitted to pass with nothing more than the expressions of regret elicited by inevitable misfortunes. But they cannot be so classed. Ordinary foresight might have prevented them, and the culpable neglect they imply, compels a common censure that impairs the brilliancy of the Schutzenfest record.

Is it not lamentable, the ignorance of British statesmen and ministers concerning our Colony? A few years ago the cachinnatory organs of British Columbians were excited by the declaration of the Duke of Newcastle (then Colonial Secretary) in the House of Commons, that San Juan Island was located in the Convention at Tammany Hall, have been dreadful. To-day it was touch of Tophet in the Hall, and I fear the worst is yet to come. The mercury in this variable climate passed over wide thermometrical ranges in brief space of time. Rapid changes occur in both the rise and the fall of the sensitive indicator. In four days of last week there was a difference of 33½ degrees, the minimum being 61 degrees at 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning, and the maximum 95½ degrees at half-past 2 on Saturday afternoon. This heated term has disturbed the Gulf Stream theory, the protracted cold weather of last spring was accounted for by the movement of the Gulf Stream some two or three hundred miles to the eastward. New York was doomed to perpetual chills and dampness. Like all previous weather

P. M. BACKUS ... Wharf street ... will sell, at 12 o'clock, Real Estate.

Cricket.

Below will be found the score of the return match at Beacon Hill, on Saturday, between the married and single, which has excited an interest in the community. This time the bachelors won easily, the married ones worked bravely. In the first innings, the single fielded badly, but in the second no fault could be found. The bowling all day was splendid, especially in the last innings by Messrs Guerra and Fere, taking all the wickets of the married men down for 18 runs. The batting on both sides was below the usual mark. There were three very fine catches made by Messrs Howard, Woodward, and Bacon, respectively. The final match will be played next Saturday.

The steamer Emma arrived from the whaling grounds at the close of the week, and will return in a few days. From a conversation had with parties on board, in reference to the probability of success, we are glad to learn they speak very confidently. The difficulty at present is simply in the explosive rockets with which the fish are struck.

Who would endure sleepless nights, burning fevers and icy chills alternately, when a remedy can be obtained for a trifles?

Who would wander like an uncertain shadow, never knowing what moment they may be prostrated?

Who would be a burden to himself and a burden to his friends, who are worn out in administering to his wants?

Who would live this life of agony when the great alterative and tonic,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, can be obtained at the nearest village. This long established and justly renowned medicine has never been known to fail in a single case, and none but the foolish and weak would hesitate to procure it at once, and save themselves from intense, life-long torture. Prepared after a long experience and deep study, it has received the encomiums of the most eminent physicians, as well as all classes from every part of the country. To those who doubt its many virtues, all we can say is, try it and judge for yourselves.

Every day letters pour in upon us, testifying to its great efficacy in curing Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Languor, Nausea and similar ills.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Diseases of the Bowels.—A remedy, which has been tested and proved in a thousand different ways, capable of eradicating poisonous taints from ulcers and healing them up, merits a trial of its capacity for extracting the intestinal corruptions really a most cruel and unwarrantable arrest. There was not a shadow of evidence or suspicion against the person charged with the offence, and who was proved to have slept in town on the night of the fire, and had not left View street at the time of its occurrence.

THE SUMMIT OF MOUNT BAKER REACHED AT LAST.—Mr. Coleman, of this city, has written us from Sehome, W. T., August 20th, detailing the interesting news of the successful ascent to the summit of Mount Baker. The party was absent from Sehome 14 days.

Mr. Ogilvy, of Victoria, one of the party, returned yesterday by canoe from Whatcom. In to-morrow's issue, particulars of thefeat will be given.

CONFEDERATION.—A message was received on Saturday by a gentleman of this city, from the Hon S. L. Tilley, C. B., Ottawa, to the effect that matters tending towards Confederation were progressing satisfactorily. Mr D W Higgins, of the Colonist, was at Ottawa, and intended returning to Victoria, towards the close of next month.

SALE THIS DAY.—We beg to call public attention of city and country buyers to the sale at Messers J P Davies' rooms to-day, at 11 o'clock. The goods offered—all kinds of American clothing, staple and furnishing goods, boots and shoes, hats, caps, &c., are of fine character, and will be sold on a liberal credit.

DEATHS.—We are sorry to have to record in our issue to-day, three cases recently of mortality amongst children in this city. Some of the deaths arose from putrid sore throat, a disease which medical men say is akin to diphtheria. Other similar instances, we have heard of, are progressing satisfactorily towards recovery.

MR. J. ROBERTSON STEWART

TO SELL

The Cargo of the Bark AVA,

DEATHS.—We are sorry to have to record in our issue to-day, three cases recently of mortality amongst children in this city. Some of the deaths arose from putrid sore throat, a disease which medical men say is akin to diphtheria. Other similar instances, we have heard of, are progressing satisfactorily towards recovery.

LEA & PERRINS'
CELEBRATED
Worcestershire Sauce.
DECLARED BY CONNOISSEURS
TO BE THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE.

CAUTION AGAINST FRAUD.

The success of this most delicious and unrivaled Condiment having caused certain dealers to apply the name of "Worcester's Sauce" to their own inferior imitations, the Public is hereby informed that the only way to secure the genuine is to

and to see that their names are upon the wrapper, labels, stopper, and bottle.

Some of the foreign markets having been supplied with a spurious Worcestershire Sauce, upon the wrapper and labels of which the names of Lea & Perrins have been forged, L. and P. give notice that they will prosecute their imitators with every effort to take instant proceedings against Manufacturers and Vendors of such, or any other imitations by which their right may be infringed.

Ask for LEA & PERRINS' Sauce, and see Name
Wrapper, Label, Bottle and Stopper.

Wholesale and for Export by the Proprietors, Worcester, England, &c., &c., and by Grocers and Druggists universally.

THE LEADING PERFUME OF THE AGE!

From Fresh Culled Flowers.

MURRAY & LANMAN'S

Florida Water.

This exquisite Perfume is prepared direct from Bloom Tropical Flowers, of surpassing fragrance. Its aroma is almost inexpressible, while its influence on the SKIN is most refreshing, imparting a Delightful Breeze to the overtaxed Body and Mind, particularly when mixed with the water of the Bath. For

Fainting Turns,

Nervousness,

Headache,

Drowsiness,

And Mysteria

It is a sure and speedy relief with the very ELIXIR of Fashion; it has for 25 years maintained its ascendancy over all other perfumes, throughout the West Indies

Cuba, Mexico and Central and South America, and we confidently recommend it as an article which, for the delicacy of flavor, richness of bouquet, and permanence, has no equal. It will also remove from the skin

Roughness,

Blisters,

Sun Burn,

Freckles,

And Pimples.

It is as delicious as the Otto of Roses and lends freshness and beautiful transparency to the complexion. Diluted with water it makes the best dentifrice, imparting a pale whiteness to the teeth; it also removes all smarting or pain after shaving.
